About

BIOGRAPHY

Dr. Kennedy "Kenny" Iheanacho is a fellowship trained hematologist-oncologist at Goshen Center for Cancer Care. He specializes in the treatment of all types of cancers, including cancers of the blood and solid organs. He also treats noncancerous disorders of the blood. Dr. Cho, as he is known by his patients, takes a team-based approach to provide the best clinical outcomes while fully respecting the sentiment in maximizing or preserving quality of life for patients.

When he's away from clinical medicine, Dr. Iheanacho enjoys spending time with his family. He also enjoys a variety of sports and activities including basketball, bowling, golf and playing the acoustic guitar. He is a big fan of the Carolina Panthers.

PHILOSOPHY OF CARE

Dr. Iheanacho considers it an honor to meet the concerns, interests and needs of his patients. He treats each patient with the same level of care he would want for his beloved relatives and friends.
