About

BIOGRAPHY

Patrick Viscardi, MD, is a plastic surgeon affiliated with Goshen Center for Cancer Care and Goshen Hospital. He specializes in plastic surgery, as well as all areas of reconstructive and cosmetic procedures. In addition, he has a comprehensive understanding of the specific physiology and treatment of the hand.

Dr. Viscardi provides reconstructive plastic surgery for patients affected by cancer and other diseases.

When Dr. Viscardi is away from his medical practice, he enjoys tending to his garden. He is also an avid New York Giants fan and enjoys playing golf.

PHILOSOPHY OF CARE

Dr. Viscardi is committed to providing comprehensive cosmetic and reconstructive surgical options for patients. He focuses on natural results to repair and restore physical appearance and function for all his patients.
